Senior Vice President
Missouri Delta Medical Center
Sikeston, MO

I began working with Medicus Partners in 2002 when our 189 bed hospital lost a general surgeon. We began the search for his replacement immediately and struggled in the process of doing so. Our staff of surgeons was feeling the strain from the loss, and we wanted to do better in our efforts to fill the position. We interviewed several recruitment firms and eventually chose Medicus Partners as the one to assist us. We very much liked their way of conducting the search, especially the fact that the person we met with initially was also the recruiter with whom we would work.

Our consultant did a great job in securing a surgeon on our behalf, which has led us to continue to work with them. To date, they have placed 7 doctors with us- 3 general surgeons, 1 ENT, 1 pediatrician, 1 Internist and 1 OB/GYN. They have delivered on every search we have given them to conduct. I also appreciate that we have discussed searches with them that they declined, because they felt they could not successfully do them in a timely and cost-effective manner.

I have worked with the same consultant throughout our entire seven-year relationship and feel that he knows our community well, that he works hard on our searches and that he puts us in the best position to be successful in our recruitment efforts.

I would recommend Medicus Partners to any hospital or group that is in need of physicians. They have done a great job on difficult searches and I have appreciated their commitment and dedication to getting the job done.
