Dear Alan Borgeson and Skott Harrington:

I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank you for the service you have provided to Clark Physician Group over the last year while we have been under contract with you for our recruitment needs. You have been excellent at following up and communicating with us on all current activity taking place during the recruitment process. The constant updates, whether good, bad, or ugly is extremely important in this era of physician shortage. Many times we as operators are not always privy to what the market truly holds for these specialty physicians. I have worked with four to five other recruitment services over the last 12 years and The Medicus Firm by far has exceeded my expectations

This last candidate that you recruited, Dr. Moore, has been an excellent addition to our team. He has quickly adapted to our electronic health record and is already building volume in not just one but two of the locations we serve. I had a complement from a patient about Dr. Moore right in front of me last week. He said that Dr. Moore provided him the most comprehensive physical exam that he has had in last 3 years and will tell his friends they need to join his practice. That says it all about the quality of physicians that your team can recruit.

Again, Thank your Alan and Skott!

Sincerely,

Randy Hamilton
