To whom it may concern,

Contemporary OB/GYN of Western Kentucky is a very busy practice in a mid-sized town who's patient load has steadily increased over the years. After building a new office with more space and increasing our front office staff, we found ourselves in need of an additional OB/GYN who could hit the ground running and quickly ramp up to future partnership.

After vetting multiple firms, we confidently chose to partner with The Medicus Firm to take on this important assignment. When compared to other recruiting firms, we found that TMF had several impressive credentials including being the only firm selected by the MGMA as an exclusive AdminiServe Partner, had managing partner Jim Stone elected to the leadership role of President of the National Association of Physician Recruitment, and had a unique advertising partnership with the New England Journal of Medicine.

We found TMF to have a clear, concise, and fair search agreement with no "hidden fees." TMF's advertisement cost was the lowest that we found and provides a constant stream of highly qualified candidates. Our recruiter, Kyle O'Connor, quickly adjusted his candidate submittals to fit our needs and tailored his vetting process. We are seeing outstanding candidates and Kyle is always available to us, communicating constantly via phone, text, and email.

In short, Contemporary OB/GYN of Western Kentucky couldn't be happier with our choice to partner with The Medicus Firm and we are proud to serve as a solid reference to their hard work and professionalism.

Sincerely,

Nathan Mueller
Practice Administrator
