To Whom It May Concern:

We engaged The Medicus Firm on a number of searches based on some of the recruitment challenges we face. Recruiting to a small, mountain town is a difficult task and we felt we needed the assistance of a firm with a national candidate reach but with a local understanding of our community.

Our recruiter at The Medicus Firm, in addition to being a very experienced and talented recruiter, only works in the Carolinas. That means his level of understanding of our communities and what we have to offer is better than other recruiters we have worked with. He helps us with everything from understanding the supply and demand in various specialties to setting compensation to appropriate procurement strategies.

We have been thrilled with the results. So far they have recruited 2 internists, 1 general surgeon and a family practice physician for us and we're most hopeful that we will be closing a pediatrician in the next several days.

I recommend The Medicus Firm to anyone looking to recruit physicians to their community.

Sincerely,

Jack Lunnan
